

Philipp Hermes is advising the private maritime industries, e.g. banks, insurance companies, shipping companies, ship construction companies in Europe and elsewhere. He is also offering advices to the public marine sector.

Philipp Hermes has expertise in international maritime and marine finance, maritime insurances and ship construction matters, in contentious and non-contentious matters. He is interested in the global and regional correlation between the different maritime and marine sectors. He gained his expertise and interest with various positions in private maritime industries, banks and law offices as well as in the national governmental and international diplomatic scene.

Philipp Hermes joined the German Navy for two years, including the German Naval Academy, and is still undertaking his services with the German forces as second lieutenant.

After his qualification in 2008, he joined a law office in Hamburg specialised in international ship finance before he was engaged as General Counsel with a shipping company.

Philipp Hermes set up Bureau Hermes Maritime (BHM) in November 2013 and set up together with Henry the European economic interest group “BHM Penlaw EWIV - EEIG” in April 2014. He is partner of BHM Penlaw Rechtsanwälte Hermes Sanchez von Cramm Partnerschaft mbB, Hamburg, since its beginning in June 2014. This law firm is also a member to the BHM Penlaw group.

Philipp Hermes lived in Italy, Singapore, Shanghai and worked also in New York City and London. He advises in German and English.

T: +49 40 3410 6798-11
E: hermes@bhm-penlaw.com

© BHM Penlaw EWIV – EEIG, 2014.